CHOOSING WHERE TO STUDY ABROAD IS A BIG DEAL. SO WHY GO TO NEW ZEALAND? LET US COUNT THE WAYS:

1. TEAN partners with seven of the eight New Zealand universities—more than any other study abroad provider from the U.S.—and can advise you on the best school for your major and lifestyle
2. ALL majors are available in English, so you can easily get the credits you need to stay on track for graduation
3. New Zealand universities are globally ranked—no matter where you study, you'll receive a world-class education
4. It's good vibes all the way. According to the Global Peace Index (2020), New Zealand is the world's second most peaceful country
5. If you love nature, you're going to love New Zealand. More than 20% of the country is covered with stunning national parks, forested areas, and natural reserves

My abroad experience was, in a word, magical. I came to New Zealand hoping to dive-in to beautiful green scenery, to hike and explore and meet new people, and I was met with that and so much more. I learned so much about myself, what actually makes me happy, what people I like to surround myself with, what my true values are and so much more. You don't have to be trying to find yourself when you come to En Zed, but just know that you will.

6. It's a champion of women's rights. New Zealand was the first country to give women the right to vote, and now ranks sixth in the world for gender equality (according to the World Economic Forum)

7. New Zealand is the real Middle Earth! You don't need to be a die-hard Lord of the Rings fan to appreciate the country's raw natural beauty (but if you are a fan, you'll go crazy for all the LOTR-related experiences!)

Hands down, my favorite TEAN cultural event had to be going to the All Blacks vs. South Africa game. You're told of how much Kiwi culture revolves around rugby and the All Blacks, but it's not real until you're there in it. You can see the absolute pride Kiwis have for their country, and their team, and for the sport of rugby. But it's not pride in a disrespectful way—every team is treated with the utmost respect, and competing fans can speak with each other openly about the game without fighting or animosity. I thought the TEAN cultural events were an amazing way to experience Kiwi culture, with activities I might not have picked for myself.

WE KNOW ASIA PACIFIC BETTER THAN ANYONE ELSE!

TEAN was founded in 1995 by two Americans who fell in love with the region after studying abroad there themselves. After starting programs in Australia, they soon added New Zealand. Today, TEAN is still led by the same two friends and has grown to include study abroad locations across Asia Pacific.

UNBEATABLE AND PERSONALIZED PROGRAMS

Choose from the most comprehensive, value-based programs and benefit from knowledgeable, experienced staff that provide a 24/7 extensive support network in each program location across New Zealand.

STEP-BY-STEP GUIDANCE THROUGH THE APPLICATION PROCESS

To start your journey, our Chicago-based team can advise you on the best school for your academic needs with a location that fits your lifestyle. We also guide you each step of the way—from figuring out financial aid planning and securing your visa to helping you find the best flights and transferring course credit.

STUDY AND INTERN ABROAD

Get placed in an ideal internship with the help of our Internships Team that have an extensive network of contacts throughout the country. Students can benefit from TEAN's internship network through a full-time internship or a part-time internship during a semester studying abroad.

SCHOLARSHIP OPPORTUNITIES (INCLUDING A FULL RIDE)

Apply for TEAN's variety of scholarships including need, merit, and diversity-based scholarships. TEAN also offers one annual full ride scholarship that covers tuition, program fees, orientation, and housing.

SCHOOLS ACROSS NEW ZEALAND

Semester programs are available at seven New Zealand universities in five different cities across the country, so you can find the courses you need in the destination that suits your lifestyle.

INDIVIDUAL IN-COUNTRY SUPPORT

Students in all programs are personally supported by TEAN's knowledgeable Resident Directors and other in-country staff throughout the semester. Get help with figuring out your new school expectations or ask about the area's best hiking trails.

IMMERSIVE HOUSING OPTIONS

Carefully chosen accommodation options offer engaging experiences through living with local Kiwis and other international students in both on and off-campus student housing.

AWESOME ORIENTATION EXCURSION

Get ready for an exhilarating crash course in Kiwi living, plus a semester orientation with fellow TEAN students. Explore New Zealand's rich culture and environments starting in Auckland with a traditional Maori welcome ceremony and hangi dinner at a marae (meeting house). Next, stop at Hobbiton, then discover Rotorua's renowned geothermal activity (including the Wai-o-tapu Thermal Wonderland), soak in natural hot springs, learn a powerful Maori haka, and more.

XAELE ALLEN-CABALLERO

The TEAN orientation was one of my favorite parts of the semester. I was so nervous and excited to get to New Zealand and I loved that we got to bond with everyone.

TRAVEL OPPORTUNITIES

Adventure beyond New Zealand with optional organized trips such as a weekend getaway to Melbourne, Australia and the chance to explore the unique culture of tropical Thailand during the mid-semester break.

OPTIONAL INTERNSHIPS

For those interested in work experience, optional part-time internships can be arranged in addition to your courses.

INCLUDED CULTURAL EVENTS

Each program location offers a range of included cultural events such as experiencing rugby matches, catching a live comedy show in Auckland, tramping (New Zealand's word for hiking) in Christchurch, or a unique tour of Weta Workshop, one of the world's leading film design and effects studios, in Wellington.

So beyond grateful for the opportunity to learn about Maori life, especially through traditional performance. You want to really learn about a culture? Listen to their language, learn the music they teach their children, the stories they pass on through generations. It's more than textbook readings. It's very much a living and breathing community and I feel so fortunate to have had the chance to dip my toe into it, even for a short period of time.

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

New Zealand was so much more than just a semester abroad. With each journey, I can truly say that I had an eye-opening experience that expanded my view on the world. The five months flew by but left an enormous impact on my life. Majority of this I attribute to the people I've met along the way, to whom I owe everything and some Cadbury chocolate, too. The rest gets credited to the absolutely stunning country of New Zealand; Mother Nature definitely did not skimp out here. Taken at Kauaeranga Kauri Trail (Pinnacles Walk).

I was placed at a small boutique PR company in Auckland. I worked on reports, dealt with clients via phone, organized admin and helped in event planning. I absolutely loved my entire experience. At the end of my internship I was even offered a job if I were to ever move to New Zealand.

Before I studied abroad I was the type of person to sit on the sidelines and watch other people go on adventures; New Zealand changed that. I became a traveler, an adventurer, a wanderer. I went bungee jumping, horse trekking, white and black whitewater rafting, rock climbing, kayaking, bike riding, spelunking, and polar plunging. Five-hour hikes became the norm. I made friends with people from six continents and learned words from eight different languages while becoming a more confident, self-reliant, experienced individual.

Studying abroad through the TEAN program in New Zealand was one of the best times of my life. Being able to go to a smaller country like New Zealand was special because I was able to see so much of the entire country in a few short months. This experience made me a much more open, independent and adventure-seeking person, all with the comfort of having the incredibly helpful and responsive staff members at TEAN to help me if I ever got stuck.

I loved living in Dunedin because of its proximity to outdoor activities, as well as the emphasis the city seemed to place on the students. I found my academic experience at the University of Otago to be refreshing, challenging, and illuminating. I felt so fortunate to be taking classes with New Zealanders and other international students, as the vast majority of my classes at my home university are only with other Americans. My favorite class I took abroad was my marine ecology course, because I loved how it incorporated local issues into our learning.
